Phonics

Take a look at the picture below from Nick Sharrat's book. Can you find some things that begin with the 's' sound?

Make fizzy dough <https://family.co/blog/inspiration/10-messy-play-ideas-for-hands-on-learning/>

What you need:

- 1 cup of flour
- 1 cup of baking soda
- 1/4 cup vegetable oil
- Oil-based or powder food colouring
- Vinegar
- A mixing bowl
- A tub for playing in

How you do it:

The method starts by creating sensory play dough (which is also safe for little ones who still put everything into their mouths). Push the play dough into the tub, and let your children explore with moulding and shaping it.

Then, add a bit of vinegar to the dough to bring the fizz out. The little ones will have a wonderful time grabbing the fizzing foam while the older children will have a kick out of adding the baking soda and watching the bubbles form.

Do some daily exercise

For today, why not do some dancing. Dancing helps to lift our mood whilst at the same time keep us fit and healthy. Follow the link and dance along with Boogie Beebies!

Or why not pretend to be a butterfly!
