Listening Games

Play one of these fun listening games together with your family. Click on the link below and listen to the different animal noises. Carefully listen to the sounds. Can you guess what they are?

Visit the Giraffe enclosure

Take a trip to Folly Farm. The farm is offering free virtual access where you can watch the giraffes in their enclosure live. Talk about what they look like and what they are doing. What do they look like? What are they doing?

Sing A Long with THAMES

THAMES have created some lovely singing tutorials on their you tube channel for you to watch and sing along to. Click on the link below to listen to the story told by Grace and Alice.

Make a Feelings Diary

To help you think about how you are feeling throughout the week create a feelings diary with your grown up. This will help you realise that it is OK to feel how you are feeling now and also know that your feelings change. Spend some time talking about one or two feelings that you have today (happy, sad, anxious, relaxed, excited, worried). Use the pictures of different feelings from the link below or make your own by drawing them with pen and paper. Use the grid below or draw your own and put the picture that represents how you feel into the boxes. At the end, talk about or draw a picture of at least one thing that made you happy today.

Read A Book

Today's book is Giraffe's Can't Dance by Giles Andreae and Guy Parker-Rees. Follow the link below where you can listen to the story. I like listening to the music too.

Make a giraffe picture

Collect some different objects around the house, or even when you go out on your daily walk with your grown up such as small stones, sticks and leaves. Make your own picture of a giraffe using the objects you have found.

Do some daily exercise

Exercise is a great way to keep your body and mind healthy and can really help with lifting your mood. Try some fun exercise from dancing with Oti Mabuse to workouts with Joe Wicks everyday at 9am.
