Hello!

Writing

Yesterday, we challenged you to predict the next piece of writing we are going to be learning about.

Today, we're going to add to our predictions and use illustrations to help us learn new words and phrases.

Writing

Today you are going to predict the next piece of writing we are going to be learning about.

Using these clues we want you to write down your predictions!

You can use these sentence starters or think of your own...

- I think... because...
- Maybe...because...
- It could be...because...
- Because there was a..... I think....

We're going to be thinking about a poem called 'The Owl and the Pussy-Cat' in Literacy.

It's a very old poem written by Edward Lear, a famous British poet!

Here is the back cover.

The blurb says :

*Sail away for a
year and a day to the land where the Bong-tree grows!*

the endnote
page.

In your literacy books, add to your predictions from yesterday.

What else do we know? What do you think now?

Who are the main characters?

What do you think Bong-trees are?

Looking at the map, what will the weather be like on the journey?

There's a building in the land of the Bong-trees. What type of building do you think this will be?

Art

Yesterday, you made 3D shapes using playdough or clay. Today, we're going to use that material to think about sculpture.

Our artist today is Saloua Raouda Choucair. Follow the link to find out more!
